Spring is...Springing

I don't know about you, but I'm getting tired of the Hazardous Weather Outlooks, Tornado Warnings and Watches, and Floods. It's almost like we're paying for the mild winter with a crazy spring. I don't mean to complain, but weather that comes with a side of destruction is on a different level than it just being a little too hot or too cold for our liking.

It's not unusual when weather patterns start going crazy to think about the end of the world. Will this be how the world is at the end? Will there be lots of tornados, floods, storms? I don't know. What I do know is that God gave us a promise to continue sustaining the world throughout its life, until the end. At the end of The Flood, when God gives Noah His covenant never to destroy the earth again, He adds a special promise to it: "While the earth remains, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, day and night, shall not cease." (Gen. 8:22)

Whatever Spring brings, you can be sure that God will keep his promise to sustain the world throughout seasons, harvests, and days. Ultimately, in promising this, God gives us a picture of His promise toward us: He will sustain us throughout our days as well—even when it seems like life is out of control, even when tragedies happen, even when things are hard. God continues to work behind the scenes to sustain His people. God cares for His creation—the earth, the plants/animals, and you.

From the very bottoms of our hearts, Jordan and I, would like to say thank you for all the love, support, and prayer for the twins. It was so touching to see how many people care for our precious babies. Jordan and I like to joke that they are Monroe County Famous. There is a saying that goes if you wan to make God laugh start making your own plans and boy we must of made him laugh. God knew He had something better in store for us than our plans. Our God is an awesome God, whom knows the true desires of hearts and with Him nothing is impossible!

With lots of love, Ashley & Jordan Lucas
